

PORT OF ENTRY

Ports of entry within the state of Texas accounted for nearly $740 BILLION in international trade in 2018. Texas' location, geography and growing economy offer a multitude of trade opportunities with other states and countries. Texas has 29 OFFICIAL PORTS of entry that serve as critical gateways to global trade, including seaports, inland ports and border crossings. Each Texas port of entry contributes to state and local economies in a unique way.

ABOUT ALLIANCE TEXAS AND THE ALLIANCE GLOBAL LOGISTICS HUB

The Alliance Global Logistics Hub is part of the larger AllianceTexas development in Fort Worth. The hub is one of Texas' two intermodal logistics facilities connecting air, ground and rail, allowing businesses to take advantage of trade via all three modes of transportation.

Located on Fort Worth's north side, the Alliance Global Logistics Hub began in 1990 with the world's first industrial airport.

GROWING STRONG

The Alliance Global Logistics Hub's layout, location and structure differ somewhat from typical ports in our state, providing:

9,600 acres, as part of a larger 26,000-acre, master-planned, mixed-use development

A 500-acre multifaceted rail facility owned and operated by BNSF Railway

Direct access to three highways (I-35W, SH-170, and SH-114)

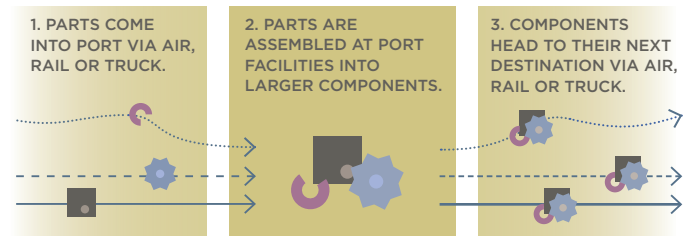

Two 11,000-foot runways

DOWNTOWN FORT WORTH

INTERMODAL LOGISTICS FACILITY

Alliance Global Logistics Hub is one of Texas' two intermodal facilities, making it different from traditional ports. Here's how it works:

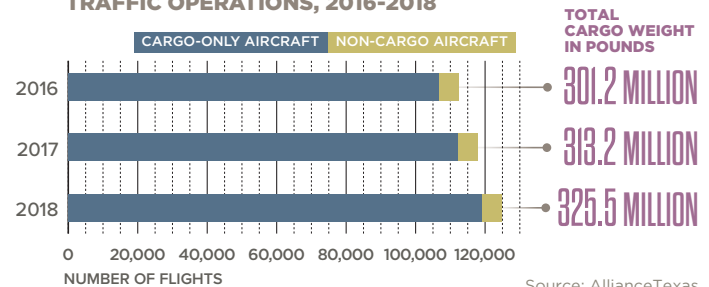

AS A TENANT AT THE ALLIANCE GLOBAL LOGISTICS HUB, BNSF RAILWAY OPERATES THREE UNIQUE FACILITIES:

- Intermodal transport for the handling of containers
- Classification yard for classifying and grouping railcars according to movement requirements
- Finished vehicle transport for automobile manufacturers
