

Rendering Property

Public Service Announcement: 30 seconds

Airdate: Feb. 1 – April 15

Suggested copy:

Business owners have until April 15 to file property tax renditions with the (Name) County Appraisal District. To render is to simply list the taxable inventory, equipment and other property a business owned or managed as of Jan. 1. Filing a rendition late, incomplete or not at all could result in a 10 to 50 percent penalty. Rendition forms and more details are available at the (Name) County Appraisal District. So don't get hit with a penalty. Render your taxable property by April 15.

Generic version:

Business owners have until April 15 to file property tax renditions with their county appraisal district. To render is to simply list the taxable inventory, furniture, equipment and other property a business owned or managed as of Jan. 1. Filing a rendition late, incomplete or not at all could result in a 10 to 50 percent penalty. Rendition forms and more details are available at your county appraisal district. So don't get hit with a penalty. Render your taxable property by April 15.